Our Cambridge Connected Curriculum uses our local area, our city and our world as starting points for the learning adventure. The curriculum is mapped to connect with the stories, people and places in the present and in the past as ways to help our young people to navigate the future.

Samuel Johnson said, “When a man is tired of London, he is tired of life.” We feel this is a good way to think about Cambridge and Greater Cambridge. There is so much on our doorstep, in the urban and rural landscape, which can be optimised to build knowledge, develop character and open windows into the rest of the world and future possibilities. We say, “If teachers give children the keys to the City they will never be tired of learning!”

Set around the compass points our unique Cambridge Connected Curriculum offers a rounded, whole education that balances personal development (Character/South) with creativity and communication (Creativity/East), academic rigour and cultural capital (Critical Thinking/West) with the voice, choice and agency of the child to be a positive changemaker (Citizenship/North). The compass points align with our four core values that make up the mnemonic CREW - Courage, Responsibility, Excellence and Wisdom as well as eight global skills for human flourishing. Ours is a curriculum designed around the heart, hand, head and hope of human existence.
